

GEN. LEE TO GO TO WASHINGTON

Will be on the Ground to Exert His Influence for Jamestown.

SEA WATER TO FIGHT FIRES

Plan to Secure the Removal of Hampton-Sidney to the Jamestown Exposition Grounds.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NORFOLK, Va., November 16.—General Fitzhugh Lee, president of the Jamestown Exposition, will transfer his headquarters to Washington in the immediate future, to be on the spot when the time arrives to begin preliminary work toward securing a national appropriation for the exposition. Since the election of the board of governors of the exposition and the concentration of authority in that body, collections on subscriptions to the preferred stock of the exposition company have increased one hundred and eighty-seven and one-half per cent. David Lowenberg, the director-general of the exposition, has been elected a member of the Executive Committee to fill the vacancy caused by the election of C. Brooks Johnson as chairman of the governing board. Mr. Lowenberg was previously an ex-officio member of the committee.

SEA WATER FOR FIRES. The Councils of Norfolk have appropriated $100 for the expense of five Chief Keoghe and City Engineer Brooks on a trip to New York and Philadelphia for the purpose of studying the central pumping stations of those cities, Norfolk being a water town the project has been broached in Councils to have salt water mains laid through the business district of the city and connected with a central pumping station, which will be able to draw water from streams even without the aid of regular fire engines. These mains would draw their supply from the river.

WANT HAMPDEN-SIDNEY. The answer of the Jamestown Exposition Company to the request recently made by the Presbyterian Ministerial Association regarding a site and buildings for Hampden-Sidney College is being anxiously awaited by those interested in moving the college here. The endorsement by the Tidewater Ministerial Union of the project last Monday has given new life to the movement and as the attitude of the exposition company is favorable, it is more than likely that Hampden-Sidney College will move to Sewell's Point.

The Jamestown Exposition Company has been requested to donate twenty acres of land and buildings to the value of $100,000 as an inducement to the college to move here. It has received the request favorably, and with the realization that the establishment of a large institution at the Point would be a benefit to themselves and the community at large. While the public is generally of the opinion that when an exposition is held, the land and buildings, when utilized for such a purpose as the establishment of a college, are to the lasting benefit of the owners of the land in the vicinity and to the surrounding country.

Hampden-Sidney College has no reason to move except to a more favorable situation in an out of the way place. It possesses 250 acres of land of the value of $200,000. The proposition of Newport News to give the college $50,000 to move to that city was so small that it was not considered, and efforts will be made to divert this money to Sewell's Point, a more desirable site accessible to Newport News as to Norfolk and the location of the college there would be nearly as beneficial to one place as the other. The proposition which Norfolk expects to make, while not amounting to as much as Hampden-Sidney now owns, does not lessen the value of the present buildings and increases the college's greater chance of increase by placing it in a more accessible and larger community.

As soon as some definite reply is received from the Jamestown Exposition Company an appeal will be made to the public generally for the necessary funds.

INTERESTING EVENT.

Presentation of Price Memorial Library to the University.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) UNIVERSITY, Va., Nov. 16.—The formal presentation of the library of the late Thomas R. Price, who died in New York on May 7, 1903, will take place at the University Saturday evening next at 8 o'clock. The library comes to the University as a gift from Mrs. Thomas R. Price, now residing at Elizabeth Price, who desires thus to erect a fitting memorial to the name of the loyal and honored Virginian, whose most devoted friends and associates for many years a distinguished and useful member of the Board of Visitors of the University.

Both speakers are men of national renown for culture and learning, for brilliant and eloquent oratory. The University will be full of interest for all friends of the University, and will draw back to their Alma Mater no small number of Dr. Price's old friends and former pupils.

It is hoped by the authorities of the University that many of them as possible will attend.

WEDDINGS IN OLD VIRGINIA

Double Ceremony in the First Baptist Church Buena Vista.

TWO SISTERS THE BRIDES

Miss M. J. Rucker to Dr. C. P. Jones and Miss E. B. Rucker to Mr. Andrew Rees.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) LEXINGTON, Va., Nov. 16.—A beautiful double marriage was solemnized at 8 o'clock this evening at the First Baptist church of Buena Vista, when Miss Miranda James Rucker and Dr. Clarence Porter Jones, of Newport News, Va., and Miss Ella Rancho Rucker and Mr. Andrew Rees, of near Buena Vista, were united; the pastor, Rev. Willis L. Wayts, officiating. The church was tastefully decorated with potted plants, white chrysanthemums and ferns, all lighted with many colored lamps and candles.

Miss Miranda Rucker was attended by Miss Nannie May Almond, of Lynchburg, as maid of honor, and Dr. Jones' best man was his brother, Mr. B. S. Jones, of Brydlye, Va. Miss Ella Rucker's maid of honor was her sister, Miss Margaret Virginia Rucker, of Buena Vista, and Mr. Rees was attended by Mr. J. H. Glasgow, of Buena Vista.

Both brides looked lovely in white messaline silk over taffeta, and both carried Bride's roses. Miss Miranda's veil was caught by a pearl brooch, the gift of the groom, Dr. Jones. Miss Ella's veil was caught by a diamond sunburst, the gift of the groom, Mr. Rees. Both maids of honor were gowned in white India silk over taffeta and carried Bride's roses.

The bridesmaids and groomsmen were: Miss Margaret Witt, of Lexington, with Mr. Robert Jones, of Fort Union, Va.; Miss Margaret Rucker, of Buena Vista, with Mr. D. Edward Witt, of Norfolk; Miss Pikelia Cunningham, of Buena Vista, with Dr. George J. Williams, of Newport News; Miss Lillian Rucker, of DeLaplaine, with Mr. T. Tracy Thompson, of Buena Vista; Miss Della Almond, of Lynchburg, with Mr. A. Nelson Myers, of Lexington; Miss Ruth Rucker, of Washington, D. C., with Mr. H. S. Rucker, of Buena Vista. The bridesmaids were all dressed in white India silk over taffeta, and carried maiden-hair ferns tied with white gauze ribbons.

The organist was Mr. Walter P. Lee, of Buena Vista. He rendered Mendelssohn's wedding march as the bridal party entered the church, and during the ceremony played "Hearts and Blossoms."

The brides are the attractive and accomplished daughters of Mr. D. H. Rucker, of the Corporation Court of Buena Vista. Dr. Jones is a prominent young specialist of Newport News. Mr. Rees is a successful young farmer of Rockbridge.

The presents were numerous and valuable, attesting to the popularity of the brides. The church was crowded with a cultured audience.

Among the guests from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. George H. Rucker, of Alexandria, Va.; Mr. D. E. Rucker, of Hampton; Mr. A. M. Rucker, of Bon Air, Va.; Mrs. C. H. Almond and daughter, Miss Ethel; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dlugid and daughter, Miss Elizabeth; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Creasy and daughter, Miss Grace, of Mt. Airy; Miss Bessie Collier, of Charlottesville; Mr. P. M. Rucker, of Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Watson, of Nimrod Hall.

The newly-wed couples left over the Norfolk and Western railroad on a trip to include New York, Niagara Falls, and other cities of interest. Dr. and Mrs. Jones will be at home to their friends after November 28th, at 118 Thirty-second street, Newport News, Va. Mr. and Mrs. Rees will be at home to their friends after December 1st, at "Fair View Farm," Buena Vista.

Taylor—Swann.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) CHARLESTON, Va., Nov. 16.—Old "Muddy Creek" Church, in Powhatan county, was the scene of a beautiful wedding on Tuesday afternoon. The contracting parties were Miss Rosa Pearl Swann and Mr. R. S. Taylor.

The church was beautifully decorated and lighted. To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, the party entered the church; Miss Bertha Coyne and Mr. Taylor were the bridesmaids, and Mr. Emmet Wilburn, Miss Annie Swann, and Mr. Frank Davis. Then came the bride, gowned in dainty white silk, her bouquet with red and white roses, and carrying a huge bouquet of brides roses. She was with her maid of honor, Miss Mamie Swann. Mr. Taylor was accompanied by his best man, Mr. Theodore Swann. Mr. Porter Swann, uncle of the bride, pronounced the words uniting the happy couple, Miss Annie Mae Ribbes, of the service, played the organ. "Believe Me, If All Those Endearing Young Charms," then, changing to the swelling tones of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March," the bride and groom were pronounced man and wife. They repaired to the home of the bride's father, Mr. Richard Swann, of Trenholm, Va., where a reception was tendered them.

Tyler—Serpell.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 15.—Major S. Heth Tyler and Miss Nell Serpell, were married at the home of the bride, Mrs. B. D. Tucker, D. D. rector of St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal Church. The bride was attended by Miss Serpell, and was witnessed only by the very immediate families and friends of the bride.

Colonel James Mann was Major Tyler's best man, and Miss Guillemer Serpell was her sister's maid of honor. The bride is the daughter of Colonel and Mrs. J. M. Serpell, and is one of the most vivacious and charming young women in Norfolk society. The groom is a son of former Governor and Mrs. J. Hogo Tyler, of Burford. He is a member of the Norfolk law firm of Sale, Mann and Tyler, and has been a resident of this city for about three years. During the summer he was in the employ of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company. He was attached to the paymaster's department.

Former Governor Tyler, Mrs. Tyler, the Misses Serpell, Sue and Lily Tyler and Messrs. James, John and Edward Tyler were present at the wedding, and among the other out-of-town friends who witnessed the ceremony were Miss Rosalie Williams, of Red Springs, N. C.; Miss Mary Enoch, of New York; Miss Mary Serpell, of Louisville, Ky.; Miss Genevieve Cassin and Mr. Gustav Friebus, of Washington; Miss Cora Wills, of Baltimore; Miss Achasia Dorsey, of Elkton City, Md. Major and Mrs. Tyler left on an extended bridal tour after the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Burwell Ware have returned from their bridal tour to Boston. Mr. Ware was accompanied by Rev. W. G. Birch to Boston. There was some rough weather.

Two white men from Newberry, called in at Hotel Tilden, at Newberry, and registered a few days ago. They stated that they might not be in for supper, as they wished to call on a friend of theirs, living in town, and would probably take tea with him. Later they returned and said that they would spend the night with their friend. Captain Bagby then asked who was his friend. To his astonishment and disgust, the friend was a negro named Liverpool. They were very promptly excused from that hotel, henceforth and forever.

NAN PATTERSON IN COURT-ROOM

Trial of Alleged Slayer of Caesar Young Began Yesterday in New York.

EVIDENCE CIRCUMSTANTIAL

Prosecution Indicates That It Will Have No Eye-Witnesses of Shooting.

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, November 16.—After more than five months in the Tombs prison awaiting trial on a charge of murder, the case of Nan Patterson, the alleged slayer of Caesar Young, was brought to trial in the criminal branch of the Supreme Court to-day.

Delay first from one cause and then from another has been a prominent feature in the case ever since Miss Patterson was taken into custody after the tragic death of Young in a cab in which he and the young woman were driving to the pier where Young was to take a steamer for Europe. Even in its last stages after the date for trial had been fixed a minor case which claimed the attention of the court dragged slowly along and forced another delay.

Court Room Crowded.

In anticipation of the beginning of the trial the court room was crowded with spectators when Justice Vernon M. Davis took his seat on the bench to-day. There was only a slight delay before it was announced that everything for the opening of the trial was in readiness. Miss Patterson, dressed in black, was brought in by prison attendants, and took a seat beside her counsel, Abraham Levy and Daniel O'Reilly. Her father, J. Randolph Patterson, of Washington, had a seat within the bar enclosure. The work of selecting a jury from a special panel of one hundred namesmen was begun at once.

The examination of each namesman was conducted with extreme thoroughness, and one man who apparently had met all the requirements was turned away by the defense when he said, in answer to a question, that he had friendly feelings toward District Attorney Jerome E. Hendricks, a broker was the first man to answer all the questions to the satisfaction of both the prosecution and the defense.

Circumstantial Evidence.

The prosecution will depend entirely upon circumstantial evidence in building up their case against the defendant, according to a statement made by Assistant District Attorney Rana during the examination of namesmen. Richard S. White, a lumber dealer, had declared himself opposed to finding a verdict in a capital case on circumstantial evidence alone and referred to the position of eye-witnesses to the shooting testifying before the jury.

"So far as I know," said Mr. Rana, "the prosecution does not intend to call any eye-witnesses to the shooting of Caesar Young."

HIS INJURIES A MYSTERY.

Coroner's Jury Fails to Connect Any One With the Crime.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WASHINGTON, Va., November 16.—The coroner held an inquest over the body of young Robert Hise, who died at his home near Woodville, from wounds he had received while away from the house Sunday seeing after some snares and rabbit traps. Your correspondent is unable to learn what is the nature of the coroner's verdict, but his doctor orders when you bring your prescription to us.

There is as yet no suspicion against any one, and an investigation of the places where his traps were showed where some person either dug a rabbit out of the ground or cut one from out of a log, and the ground being dug, some tracks were necessarily made; but nothing could be found which would point to a light except the tracks and trapped condition of the ground. As yet suspicion points to no one, but some boys in the neighborhood are kept close to young Hise's, but as yet it has not been ascertained as to whether or not any person saw young Hise at his snares and traps. The most remarkable thing is how he was able to walk to his aunt's house, which was perhaps his condition, and which was perhaps a quarter of a mile from where he was hurt. Foul play is at present the only possible theory, but no one knows of an enemy of the young man.

It certainly seems that he was brutally murdered, or at best, beaten in a most brutal manner, as the boy had always been small and delicate for his age.

Pretty But Quiet Wedding Celebrated at Noon Yesterday.

A pretty wedding took place Wednesday at noon at Quibble, at the residence of the bride's parents, when Miss Anna Celeste Sweeney became the bride of Mr. Joseph M. McSweeney. The marriage was a quiet one, only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom being present.

The bride was attired in a dress of white crepe, and carried Bride's roses. The maid of honor was Miss Rosa Sweeney, sister of the bride, in blue organdy. The best man was Mr. George McSweeney. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Bowler, assisted by Rev. Father McKeehey, of St. Patrick's Church, and Rev. Father James, of Sacred Heart. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the residence of the bride's father.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Sweeney of this city, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Michael McSweeney, also of Richmond. The out-of-town guests were: Mr. and
